

About

Only verified members of the global banking community are eligible to register .BANK domains. In order to prove that applicants are actual members of the global banking community, every application undergoes vigorous verification before it is registered. This exclusivity offers a degree of safety that other commercial domains do not provide.

In addition to strict registration requirements, the new domain will help prevent users from being redirected to fake bank websites, making it more difficult for criminals to create spoofed emails from a .BANK website and provide a higher level of encryption. These enhanced security requirements allow Jefferson Bank to better meet today's increased cybersecurity threats.

The adoption of .BANK for our Internet operations is the natural progression as Jefferson Bank continues to provide a high-trust environment for our customers. We can offer new products, services and communication channels through the JeffersonBank.BANK domain uniquely built to serve the banking community.
